WHO WE SEE

The Psychological Testing Service is available to individuals age 4 to 60 with an array of conditions. Our evaluations are individualized and specific to the referral questions that brought the person to our service. Our testing service best serves those who:

- Have impaired cognitive functions due to mental health issues
- Have emotional issues keeping them from functioning at optimal levels, or are older adults experiencing a change in functioning from previous levels
- Are not progressing in their mental health care and are looking for help in determining complicating factors

Evaluations can help individuals better understand their cognitive strengths and vulnerabilities, assist with clarifying complex diagnostic questions, and provide guidance to the individual's providers in regards of medication and treatment.

Psychological testing is covered by most insurances.

Referral needed for some insurances.
